Nina Postupack, Ulster County Clerk Announces “World War II & the Homefront” Presentation at Matthewis Persen House Museum

Kingston, NY - Ulster County Clerk Nina Postupack is pleased to welcome back Hank Yost, World War II reenactor, to the Matthewis Persen House Museum on Saturday, August 13, for a special presentation. The Matthewis Persen House is located at 74 John Street in uptown Kingston, at the corner of John and Crown Streets. Admission is free and all are welcome.

World War II saw an unprecedented number of young Americans serving in the Armed Forces. This led to a shortage of workers on the home front, the migration of families to industrial areas for work, challenging work conditions, and nationwide rationing. Join reenactor Hank Yost on Saturday, August 13, from 10:00 am to 4:00 pm for a presentation and informal discussion on the challenges faced at home and abroad during WWII. Everyone is welcome to join in the discussions taking place throughout the day.

“Hank Yost brings history to life in his World War II American soldier persona,” said County Clerk Nina Postupack. “His dedication to accurately portraying the people and events surrounding this difficult time in history is a valuable resource for the whole community.”
